- 1.3 Honorary doctorates may, in exceptional cases, be awarded posthumously.
- 1.4 In exceptional cases, the award of an honorary doctorate to persons who have already received honorary doctorates from other universities, may be considered, especially where the nominee has made a new contribution worthy of an honorary doctorate since receiving another award.
- 1.5 The following categories of persons are not eligible for honorary doctorates of the NWU:
 - 1.5.1 active employees of the NWU; and
 - 1.5.2 donors, where the impression might be created that the award is aimed at securing further financial contributions to the NWU.

2 LIMITATIONS ON FACULTIES FOR MAKING NOMINATIONS

- 2.2 In exceptional circumstances, a faculty may make two nominations in a specific year, but may then not make a nomination the following year.

3 CONFIDENTIALITY

- 3.1 Bearing in mind the high symbolic value of such awards, and to protect the privacy and dignity of candidates, strict confidentiality and proper discretion must be observed in the processes of compiling and considering any proposal for the award of an honorary doctorate, up to the final approval of a nomination by council.
